

Gardens Report – Mar 24

Unfavourable weather over the last two months has limited activity on our garden sites to general maintenance and tidying.

Hopefully, the planting undertaken at Ocean Drive in November will show developments soon – a few more plants will be added within the next couple of weeks. At a suitable time, the apple tree could benefit from some professional pruning.

At the Langbury Lane site our Gardener, David, has cleared away some old growth. Further work is required to remove dead wood from some shrubs, particularly those close to the access gates. We have agreed a range of perennial plants for inclusion to enhance the look and these are on order from a local nursery, with a date for planting arranged for Friday 5 April.

I have diarised to tidy the Highdown Way site during the week of 25 March.
